Valerie Ann Worwood's book "The Complete Book Of Essential Oils & Aromatherapy" is one of the most complete and down-to-earth books on the subject, especially for the beginner. If I were to teach a course on aromatherapy for beginners, this would be one of two main texts I would use, as it is so complete. Her writing style is very clear, easily understood, and enjoyable to read. No dryness here. She begins by discussing ten essential oils as a "basic care kit," and explains how such oils should be used via an A-Z list of common household occurrences. The list includes the following as some topics: -Abdominal pain. -Abrasions. -Black Eye. -Bruises. -Colds. -Fever.

-Headache. -Hiccups. As a matter of principle, she explains at the very beginning of the book that the information contained in this book is NOT intended to take the place of a Physician's care. Her chapters on Travel, Sports related injuries, and Beauty (3 chapters covering head to feet!), Maternity and Motherhood, Mens/Women's health (separate chapters), and Aging are exceptional. She closes with chapters on aromatherapy for animals, and gardening; which I have not seen except in a work by Dr. Gary Young. The charts at the end of the book are indispensable, and complete as a ready, quick reference. Valerie's bibliography contains such authors as Belaiche; Gattefosc; Valnet, Duraffourd, Lapraz; and Wells; shows that she is very well read as she is experienced. These authors are the very pioneers of the modern resurgence of aromatherapy, and should be read by all who desire to be serious students of the art and science that is aromatherapy.
